A vacation at Sebasco Harbor Resort, a laid-back Down East retreat in Sebasco Estates, Maine, is usually a family affair. Many guests return year after year, and it's not uncommon to see three generations of one family enjoying the saltwater pool or biking the 575-acre property's winding roads. Operated much like a summer camp, albeit with better food, the family-fun resort includes a main lodge, lighthouse inn, and 23 comfortable cabins tucked among the pines along the rocky coastline.
